PORTSMOUTH FIGURES IN LOBBY REVELATION MADE AT WASHINGTON

Washington, D. C., July 1—Col. Martin M. Mulhall, of Baltimore, Md., who says he was a lobbyist for the National Association of Manufacturers, has been subpoenaed to appear before the senate "Lobby Hunt" committee on July 9th. He will be questioned concerning a long statement published in the New York World, over his signature, in which sensational charges are made concerning alleged activity of the National Manufacturers' Association in the political and business world.

Among the many things charged by Col. Mulhall in his article are these:

"The National Association of Manufacturers has for ten years conducted a tariff and general business interest lobby."

"The Association was responsible for the creation of the Tariff Commission."

"Relentless warfare is waged against public officials and labor leaders who opposed the N. A. M."

"Strikes have been broken by the paid agents of the association, including the shoe strike at Portsmouth, O."

"All the big trusts have paid money to the N. A. M. agents to carry on lobby operations."

Charge of attempt to bribe Samuel Gompers is revived. It is claimed that a plot was hatched to offer Gompers $10,000 and a permanent governmental post abroad. Gompers in turn tried to trap the plotters.

That the 70-odd press in the House had been organized into a corps of spies for espionage upon legislators.

That he helped to defeat members of Congress who opposed the interests of the Manufacturers' Association.

That his organization spent thousands of dollars to elect congressmen supposed to be sympathetic to its influences.

That he aided in securing members favorable to the association's interests on congressional committees handling labor legislation.

That, in one instance, the campaign for the election of Congressman Littlefield, of Maine, $60,000 was spent in a prohibition state in getting voters too drunk to go to the polls.

That the association sought to and frequently did control the appointments of federal judges.

MULHALL STORY WAS DENOUNCED BY BANNON

"The statement of Martin Mulhall that I was a member of Congress and affiliated with the National Manufacturers' Association when I represented the Selby Shoe Company in their strike of four years ago is absolutely devoid of truth," said Henry T. Bannon when asked about the allegations of Mulhall, who is stirring up a lot of trouble in the East through his charges that senators and congressmen bowed to the wishes of the National Manufacturers' Association.

"At the time I filed a petition enjoining the Selby Shoe Company employes from resorting to violence during their strike I was not a member of Congress or the National Manufacturers' Association. My term in Congress ended March 4, 1909 and the records will show that the injunction petition was not filed until March 9th of the same year.

"The statement made by Mulhall that I was a member of the judiciary committee following the removal of Congressman Pearre, of Maryland at the request of the M. M. A., is also without the slightest foundation. Pearre and myself served as members of the same committee during my last year in Congress. This does not look like I was one of the men who caused the removal of Pearre from the judiciary committee or profited by it, does it," asked Mr. Bannon of the reporter, who interviewed him on the allegations made by Mulhall.

"I met Mulhall a number of times while in Washington," said Mr. Bannon.

"He introduced himself as the field agent of the National Manufacturers' Association. He was always conspicuous around the Willard Hotel and hobnobbed with many well known senators and congressmen. His grievance lies in the fact that he was eventually discharged by the National Manufacturers' Association. So far as I am concerned I am not worrying about any allegations made by Mulhall. When I represented the Selby Shoe Company I was out of Congress and had been for almost two weeks. I have always been a great friend of the manufacturer and will always continue to be. We should be proud of industries as well as our farmers, miners, merchants and mechanics," said Mr. Bannon. "Our industrial development is a source of pride to us all. My affiliations with the National Manufacturers' Association have always been honorable and I am not worried over the charges that are being made by a disgruntled and discharged employe."

Mr. Bannon went to Congress in 1905 and served two terms.

Mrs. W. Holmes of West Fifth street, who has been ill for several weeks, is improving.

CALIFORNIA NOTE CABLED BY JAPAN

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, July 1.—Japan's latest note on the California alien land legislation arrived by cable today.

The Japanese embassy at once began the work of preparing it for presentation to Secretary Bryan. Nothing whatever in the nature of an ultimatum is contained in the document which is simply a long argumentative statement which for the sake of preserving the continuity of its case the Japanese government desires to have considered in connection with its note of rejoinder on June 4th. This supplementary note will not be ready for a day or two at least.

Mulhall's Charge Stirs Up Congress

(By Associated Press)

Washington, D. C., July 1.—Disclosures to follow the re-opening of the senate lobby investigation tomorrow are expected to be the most important in recent congressional investigations.

Since the publication of Col. Martin L. Mulhall's story of how he had operated to influence legislation and elections in behalf of the National Association of Manufacturers, scores of labor leaders, present and former congressmen, and others have come forward with testimony and asked that they also be heard by the investigators.

Louis J. Siebold, of New York, has also accepted service. He has been called as a newspaper man connected with the publication of the Mulhall statement to give the committee information as to statements concerning the preparation of the articles and as to the letters and telegrams Mulhall has agreed to produce.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor who figures in Mulhall's story as the object of a long continued attack by those who attempted to bribe him, and force him to give up his fight in behalf of legislation has made public a detailed report of the attempted bribery. It confirms the story told by Mulhall.

The Gompers statement is a report that the labor leader prepared in 1907 after his experience with Broughton Brandenburg, now a convict in Sing Sing prison of New York who claimed to be in the employ of the National Association of Manufacturers.

Representative Sherley of Kentucky, mentioned in the Mulhall statement as one the manufacturers could count upon to support certain measures, today secured from Senator Overman permission to appear before the lobby committee tomorrow and make a statement. Sherley said he would introduce in the House tomorrow a resolution for an investigation by a special committee and make a statement detailing his conversations with Mulhall.

WILL BE NO STRIKE IN NEW RIVER DISTRICT

(By Associated Press)

Charleston, W. Va., July 1.—Several hundred miners joined the strike today, according to reports from the Paint and Cabin Creek coal districts.

The terms of the agreement by which a strike of 15,000 miners was averted last night, in the New River field were made public today. The agreement covers a period of two years and provides a 9-hour day, the right to purchase supplies where the miners please, a semi-monthly pay, check weighmen to be selected by the miners, reinstatement of discharged men during the recent agitation and the settlement of all disputes by a board jointly selected by operators and miners, with the governor of West Virginia as the final resort when the board is unable to reach a satisfactory conclusion.

An important part of the agreement provides that the miners shall remain at work while the board is considering negotiations, while the operating companies reserved the right to place a small number of men at their mines to protect their property. The old-time mine guard system will be done away with.

(By Associated Press)

Mexico City, Mexico, July 1—Forty women, mostly of the better class, have committed suicide in Durango since its occupation last week by the rebels, after a long siege, according to a private letter received here.

The women, the dispatch says, become desperate as the result of treatment by the victorious rebels.

Consular advices say rebels who entered Durango conducted themselves like bandits, burning a large part of the business section after looting and joining in the wildest excesses. The report says foreign flags were not respected. Private advices from other sources say several German women were forced to submit to indignities from rebel adherents. The Mexican government is preparing troops for the relief of the city but many days must pass before these reach there.

DID HE WIN $1800?

Friends of Floyd, better known as "Dusty" Moeller, heard Tuesday that he had just received word of having won $1800 on a pool made with "bookies" at the Latonia race track some weeks ago.

As the story goes, "Dusty" put $1.25 in the pool, little dreaming he would realize so well on his little investment. The young man's father, John Moeller, when asked about the report, said he knew nothing about it and that his son was at present in Cincinnati.

THOUSANDS FORCED TO SLEEP ON GROUND ON GETTYSBURG FIELD

(By Associated Press.)

Gettysburg, Pa., July 1.—Despite the strenuous efforts of the regular army to do impossible things, thousands of veterans spent the night on Gettysburg field with nothing between them and the stars but their clothes and their courage, and nothing between them and the hard earth but little more of the same thing.

It was not the fault of the regulars and it was not the fault of the veterans. The railroads poured the thousands into Gettysburg the best they could, but train after train that was looked for early kept rolling into Gettysburg about midnight and thereafter until daylight and shortly after breakfast began rolling in again.

Major Normerly of the quartermaster's department, U. S. A., who has the pulse of the vast camp under his fingers, did not go to bed, nor did the little force of army officials. They failed to provide blankets, to point out tents, to satisfy the veterans that everything would be all right this morning.

Major Normerly said that more than 55,000 veterans would be on the field by night, 5,000 more than had been looked for. Although half that number would fill the camp the major said he would see that every one was provided with plenty to eat and a place to sleep.

(By Associated Press.)

Gettysburg, Pa., July 1—15,000 veterans of the war between the states sat in the sweltering heat of the big tent on the Gettysburg field today and joined in the opening ceremony of the first day of the semi-centennial celebration.

The doctors of the regular army, the Pennsylvania department of health, and the Red Cross, looked with consternation upon the swelling crowd of old and feeble men that jammed the aisles, climbed over the seats and tried hard to look comfortable in a temperature that had left 100 behind hours before.

Col. J. M. Schoonmaker, chairman of the Pennsylvania battle anniversary celebration commission presided and the first address was by Gov. Tener of Pennsylvania, who welcomed the men in the Blue and the Gray.

Secretary of War Garrison followed with the oration of the day.

Gen. Bennet H. Young, commander in chief of the United Confederate Veterans in an address today discussed the question of government pensions for the soldiers still alive who fought under the stars and bars. "It may be," he said, "that the suggestion lately put into form to give Confederate soldiers the same privileges in National soldiers' homes as Federal soldiers may lead to the establishment of this right, or that peace in its demand for the obliteration of all the bitterness of the past may demand that the nation shall pension Confederates," said Gen. Young.

Child Was Run Down

James E. Distel, of the Hansen Furniture Company, accidentally ran down Helen Larkins, the 12 year old daughter of Mrs. Anne Larkins of Thirteen street in front of James Goodpaster's store Tuesday afternoon. The child was severely cut about the arms and bruised up. Mr. Distel at once called D. O. W. Robe to attend her. Jim was coming west on Twelfth in his automobile when an umbrella flew out into the street directly in front of him. He shut off his power but the same instant the child jumped off the rear of an ice wagon to recover the umbrella and the car knocked her down.

LOBBY SCANDAL

pointment of representatives on the House committee on labor and judiciary.

Col. Mulhall declares that the following congressmen were financially aided in their campaign for re-election while they were holding office.

Ex-Representative John J. Jenkins, Republican, Wisconsin, chairman of the House Committee on judiciary; James T. McDermott, Illinois, Democrat, who Mulhall says was secretly working for legislation favorable to manufacturers despite his attitude as a labor champion; ex-Congressman James E. Watson, the Republican whip of the House 1902 to 1908, who served as the N. A. of M. lobbyist in Washington after he was defeated for re-election; ex-Representative Kittredge Haskings, Republican from Vermont; ex-Representative Charles E. Littlefield, of Maine; ex-Representative Harry T. Bannon, Republican of Ohio; ex-Representative Henry M. Coudrey, Republican, Missouri; ex-Representative J. J. Gardner, Republican, New Jersey; J. H. Michaels, chief page of the House, later a press gallery attendant, and now an elevator conductor in the Capitol; ex-Representative Ralph Cole, Republican of Ohio.

Senator Overman announced that the "lobby hunt" committee had already subpoenaed Mulhall to appear when the committee again takes up its sittings, July 9, and that after the executive session further supenas for "every witness directly connected with Mulhall's narrative" would be issued. John Kirby, Jr., Dayton, O., president and guiding light of the National Association of Manufacturers, mentioned repeatedly by Mulhall, is to be among the first witnesses called. Kirby is now in San Francisco.

"We will sift the whole affair to the bottom," said Overman. "We will call every man named by Mulhall, no matter whether they are present or past congressmen or business men. I do not want to express any opinion as to Mulhall's story, but it is so circumstantial in detail that it must be thrashed out minutely. The committee does not propose to leave in darkness any detail of his amazing narrative."

When the subpenas are issued by the committee they will contain the names of men long in public life, all accused by Mulhall of having been chief instruments of the American Manufacturers' Association in getting their particular legislative "pets" put through Congress. The senators and representatives who, Mulhall said, the association had no difficulty in reaching and influencing, number some of the most prominent men in the country, notably ex-members of the House, who Mulhall says, had their campaigns financed by the Association, stretch from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

The statement of Mulhall, in which he tells what he claims are the inside details of lobbying operations by the National Association of Manufacturers, has been followed by a series of denials by men whose names were used by Mr. Mulhall. Incidentally, it is stated that Mulhall received $10,000 from the New York World for his statement. Richard Barry, a playwright and magazine writer, assisted Mulhall for $5,000 as half the proceeds of marketing the letters involved in the Mulhall statement.

Much interest was aroused locally by the claim of Col Mulhall that the Portsmouth shoe strike in 1909 was broken "by a paid agent" of the National Manufacturers' Association."

It is recalled in this connection that early in May, 1909, a man came here who registered as "Martin Manley, New York City" and who was understood to be an agent of the National Manufacturers' Association. He set about vigorously to bring the shoe strike to an end and on May 6th, 1909, following conferences, in which Manley took an active part with certain strike leaders, the strike was declared off.

There was much discussion concerning the personality of Manley, his manner of speaking and his alleged methods. His real identity was never divulged. The clue to his real name may lie in the charges referred to above. They were made by Col. Martin M. Mulhall, who speaks of matters as one possessing intimate knowledge. May not the mysterious "Martin Manley" who was here and Col. Martin M. Mulhall be one and the same?

Possibly Mulhall's name may be Martin Manley Mulhall and in his secret work here he may have found it convenient to use only the given names.

In any event it is expected that when Col. Martin M. Mulhall goes on the stand before the senate lobby committee July 7th, he will lay bare all matters he alleges to be true of his actions as an agent of the National Manufacturers' Association, including the adjustment of strikes in various parts of the country.

John Kirby Willing To Talk.

San Francisco, July 1.—John Kirby, Jr., former president of the National Association of Manufacturers, who is here enroute to the Antipodes, is willing to appear before the senate committee investigating activity of lobbyists and answer questions as to Martin D. Mulhall, but he asks the committee to postpone his appearance.

Kirby says Mulhall was dismissed from the association's employ and tried for months to get back.

"I learned last night that he had sold to the New York World all the correspondence, records and other papers that came into his possession while he was in office. What are in those records and papers I do not know, but I know there was nothing from me," said Kirby.

ARBITRATION BOARD NOW IN SESSION

The Roanoke (Va.) World of Monday said:

"With Judge William Lee Chambers of Washington in the chair, the board of arbitration which will pass on wage differences between the Norfolk & Western railway and its maintenance of way employes, met in the board room of the railway company Monday. After formal organization and preliminary discussion, the board took up the hearing of the claims of the employes.

"Adjournment was taken at 1 o'clock for luncheon and the board went into afternoon session at 2 o'clock. It is the opinion of some interested persons that all evidence will be before the arbiters before Tuesday night.

The Question At Issue.

"Several weeks ago the maintenance of way employes took up with the road the matter of arriving at a new wage scale and working agreement. The latter was worked out without difficulty by a committee of the men and officers of the company. When a demand for about 12 per cent general increase in wages was reached, however, negotiations were halted. After some dickering, it was agreed to submit the matter of wages to a board of arbitration."

Will Oil The Pike

Director of Public Service John M. Williams has placed an order with the Standard Oil company for a carload of oil to be used in oiling Gallia pike, the flood wall driveways and perhaps Park avenue. Since the heat wave certain citizens have appealed to him to sprinkle the streets, but there are no funds available for such purposes and residents and property owners must bear this expense themselves.

'LEMONADE' SAVES CITY OFFICIALS

Joe Johnson, colored school janitor, turned host and "saved the lives" of the police court officials with an abundant supply of lemonade Tuesday morning.

Joe acted mighty proud as he waltzed into the hot and stuffy court room, toting a big bucketful of the refreshing beverage. Chief Phillips is usually a stickler for court etiquette, and ordinarily would have "called" Joe for interrupting the proceedings, but circumstances alter cases and the chief fairly fell over himself grabbing the proferred tin-cup. He whispered to Joe not to offer the Mayor any until he had finished court, but His Honor, too, cast dignity to the winds, saying, "Give me a swig of that, too, Joe." Joe bowed almost to the floor and he fairly tore off the gate of the rail enclosure in hastening to supply Safety Director Wells A. Hutchins with a gulp of the stuff and then marched defiantly past sweltering, common patrolmen and reporters.

The court docket was unusually heavy. "Fred ("Peggy") Davis was bound over to the grand jury for pointing a gun at Felix Ellis at Joe Dill's saloon Monday evening. Ellis had, in a spirit of fun, relieved him of a 25 cent piece. But for others disarming Davis there may have been a tragedy. His bond was fixed at $260.

Maud Heiler was fined $5 and her daughter, Ella Benner $10 for assaulting Miss Dolly Cooper and the latter's child sister, Ella Cooper, of Fifteenth street, Tuesday evening. The trouble grew out of some names the Cooper children's mother is said to have applied to the Heiler home some days ago. Mrs. Heiler was reprimanded for taking the law into her own hands.

Walter Windle was bound over to the grand jury for assaulting his wife, Rose Windle, and his bond fixed at $[illegible], which he soon furnished. Windle justified his assault on the fact that he had surprised one Ferris Jackson in his home, the man escaping through a rear door as he entered the house.

Andy Patterson could not account for the stab wound on [illegible] [illegible] nor could his wife Nancy explain how she was cut across the top of her left hand. The Negro [illegible] having used a knife and said he [illegible] his wife with any [illegible]. Both admitted to scrapping, though, and were fined $10 each.

Ed Selig, who tried to start trouble at Wh[illegible]'s saloon, was reminded it was his fourth or fifth appearance in court and next time [illegible] would be given a trip to the w[illegible] house. He was fined $10 and [illegible] [illegible] wanted in [illegible] Byron's court, his wife having preferred a charge of assault with intent [illegible] against him [illegible].

William Frazier and Allen Fultz and the latter's wife were all dismissed with a lecture by Chief Phillips. The two men had a tilt at Second and Court streets Monday night over Frazier's attentions to the women.

Police are investigating a complaint of Thurman Russ that West Hancock, of Ninth street, was camping on his trail with a gun Monday night because he had been keeping company with the latter's daughter, who has left home because of alleged mistreatment at the hands of her father.

Mrs. Anna Covert, of No. 312 Third street, reported to the police that Jim Felty came into her home and made an indecent proposal to her Monday evening. No trace could be found of Felty.

Sciotoville Commencement

The Methodist church at Sciotoville, beautifully decorated, was the scene Monday evening of the Boxwell commencement of [illegible] township, when certificates were awarded to twelve graduates. All of the graduates acquitted themselves with credit. The address of the evening was made by the Rev. T. H. McAfee of this city.

Superintendent C. W. Hill presented diplomas to the following graduates: Walter Ash, William Dressler, Clarence Artis, Frank Basham, Isabel Jenkins, Emma Buckley, Agnes Allen, Catharine Walden, Lillian Smith, Mabel Gannon and Bessie Rice.

C. & O. MAY HAVE BOUGHT THE D. T. & I. RAILWAY

Says the Ashland Independent: "The sale of the northern and southern divisions of the D., T. & I. railway Saturday to parties acting as a 'purchasing committee,' the recent sale of the Ohio Southern during the week to parties said to 'represent the first mortgage holders,' the announcement that George P. Johnson, receiver for the road, had been named general manager of the C. & O. and a statement by Mr. Johnson that he expected to remain receiver of the road until he was relieved by the court, has caused a decided stir in higher railway circles here, and the report now is that the real purchasers of the D., T. & I. is the C. & O., and instead of Mr. Johnson having been sent to the D., T. & I. by the N. & W., with whom he was formerly employed, and of which his father is president, as was reported at the time, he has become receiver of the company upon request of the C. & O. management, who desired to know the exact conditions of the affairs of the Ohio road. Mr. Johnson's report is said to have been satisfactory and the purchase of the road followed.

"It is now stated that work on the bridge between Ashland and Ironton will be resumed at an early date and pushed to an early completion, as the C. & O. is anxious to have another road outlet to the lakes for the removal of the coal traffic. The iron of the bridge has been ready for several years and the sound of the hammer and drill may be expected near the bridge piers within a very short time, if the C. & O. are the real buyers of the D., T. & I., as it looks they are.

"It was also understood, upon reliable authority, that the government had ruled that unless work was begun on the construction of the bridge by June 1, last, or positive assurance given that the work would be resumed at an early date, that the piers must be removed from the river at once. This is now the first of July and the piers remain intact, which is taken to mean that the government has assurance that the bridge is to be constructed, and constructed at once."

Went 2368 Miles Safely; Short Ride Ends In Disaster

Auto Turns Somersault, Two Were Badly Hurt

Driving 2,368 miles to Thousand Islands, N. Y., and return without laying a wrench on the car, even repairing a puncture, and then to have the car turn turtle and seriously injure two members of the party at the end of the trip, was the result an ironical whim fate played on Dr. O. E. Jackson, an East End dentist, and party Monday shortly before midnight.

In the automobile were Dr. O. E. Jackson, city; Dr. W. E. Jackson, of Jackson; B. K. Scott, city, and William Stuckey, of New York, when the car struck a graveled strip in the road on the boulevard near the Chillicothe pike Monday night, turned turtle, practically reversed its direction and alighted on the wheels.

Every member of the party was thrown from the machine.

Dr. W. E. Jackson was thrown a distance of twelve feet into a field. His injuries consist of a broken collar bone, a sprained back and minor injuries.

Dr. O. E. Jackson, who was at the steering wheel, was also catapulted out of the car. The wheel hit the pit of his stomach and then his body was frisked a distance of ten feet from the machine, scratching his face and body, bruising him externally and injuring him internally.

Fortune smiled on B. K. Scott and William Stuckey and they escaped with practically no injuries.

Dr. O. E. Jackson had just completed an ideal tour to Thousand Islands, N. Y., with his wife and baby and returning was accompanied by a life-long friend, Wm. Stuckey. Passing through Jackson, enroute home, the local dentist stopped to permit his wife to visit relatives and was accompanied home the remainder of the journey by his brother, Dr. W. E. Jackson.

It was while they were idling away time Monday night until the arrival of another brother, C. M. Jackson, of Dayton, who was due to arrive over an N. & W. train, that they decided to take the ride around the boulevard. The Tremper machine preceded them. Dust from the Tremper machine obscured the stretch of gravel and prevented Dr. Jackson from seeing the patch when his car struck it.

After reaching the Chillicothe pike the occupants of the Tremper machine noticed the Jackson car was not following and returned to make an investigation. They found the members of the party of the Jackson machine lying in the fields and alongside the road in a dazed condition. After being revived the victims of the accident drove the wrecked car to the city, although the fenders were bent, the wind shield broken and other parts of it damaged.

How to Avoid Those Pains and Distress Which so Many Mothers Have Suffered.

It is a pity more women do not know of Mother's Friend. Here is a remedy that softens the muscles, enables them to expand without any strain upon the ligaments, and enables women to go through maternity without pain, nausea, morning sickness or any of the dreaded symptoms so familiar to many mothers.

There is no foolish diet to harass the mind. The thoughts do not dwell upon pain and suffering, for all such are avoided. Thousands of women no longer resign themselves to the thought that sickness and distress are natural. They know better, for in Mother's Friend they have found a wonderful, penetrating remedy to banish all those dreaded experiences.

It is a subject every woman should be familiar with, and even though she may not require such a remedy, she will now and then meet some prospective mother to whom a word in time about Mother's Friend will come as a wonderful blessing. This famous remedy is sold by all druggists, and is only $1.00 a bottle. It is for external use only, and is really worth its weight in gold. Write today to the Bradfield Regulator Co., 107 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for a most valuable book.

Settle With City.

Market Master A. J. Finney made his monthly settlement with the city Tuesday, turning over $11.10 receipts for the past month. Mayor Fred N. Tynes' collection of fines on state cases for the quarter ending June 30 amounted to $57. The police and firemen received their semi-monthly pay checks Tuesday.

Effective Home Remedy for Tuberculosis

It is a serious matter when the lungs are affected. A trip away or to a sanatorium is not only expensive, but it involves separation from home and friends. Some are benefited, but few can safely return. Eckman's Alterative is effective for home treatment. For example:

231 S. Atlantic Ave., Haddonfield, N. J.

"Gentlemen: In the fall of 1905 I contracted a very severe cold, which settled on my lungs. At last I began to raise sputum, and my physician then told me I must go to California immediately. At this time I was advised to take Eckman's Alterative. I stayed at home and commenced taking it the last week in October. I began to improve, and the first week in January, 1906, I resumed my regular occupation, having gained 25 pounds, fully restored to health. It is now five years since my recovery has been effected, and I cannot praise Eckman's Alterative too highly. I have recommended it with excellent results."

(Signed) W. M. TATEM.

Eckman's Alterative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever; Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for more evidence. For sale by all leading druggists

WINNING BATTLE AGAINST LOCKJAW

In the relentless clutches of lockjaw for three weeks and very near death's door practically all of that time Charles Burt, a fifteen-year-old son of Edward Burt, a brickworker, 1605 Chillicothe street, is on the return tide and chances for complete recovery are excellent.

Tetanus antitoxin administered to the youth by two local physicians successfully grappled with the fatal tetanus germ and succeeded in rescuing the youth from the grip of death.

When first taken under treatment the youth's body was almost rigid and he suffered excruciating pain. An aggregate 100,000 units of tetanus antitoxine was administered and from the first the lad showed signs of rallying.

The city's body of medical practitioners have closely observed the case and consider it one of the most remarkable cures effected since the introduction of the serum for combatting the lockjaw germ.

LOOKING OVER O. S. L. PLAYERS

The Enquirer of Tuesday said: "The Reds have a scout looking over Ohio State league players. A favorable report on Pitcher Long of Hamilton is expected, and if received, this youngster will be purchased. Long is just breaking in, but has already shown a wolrd of stuff. He came from the railroad shops in Chrichsville and took the job at Hamilton at quite a small salary, because he thought he could make good and soon get higher up. He won his first eight games, then lost one to Chillicothe, the best club in the league, by a score of 2 to 1, and then came back and won his tenth game. He is a right-hander and is a bright fellow, as well as having all the earmarks of a successful pitcher. The Reds must have two or three smart young pitchers to help them out of last place and Manager Tinker is going to get hold of promising material just as soon as the scouts report on them."

Invite Portsmouth

Mayor F. N. Tynes today received the following telegram from J. F. Bedell, mayor of Charleston, inviting Portsmouth people to visit there:

"The West Virginia Prosperity Celebration and Exposition opened today in a blaze of glory and enthusiasm. It is the biggest and best and only one of its kind ever put on in America. Best music by famous bands, ten open-air acts, squadron of cavalry parading, drilling and maneuvering, aeroplane flights, and one hundred exhibits in fancy decorated booths. It is the best advertisement for the state ever undertaken. Tell your people to come and be our guests for one day."

LINE UP FOR ICE

While in Cincinnati, Sunday, L. P. Haldeman saw a pathetic spectacle—three squares of women and children lined up waiting their turn to get a small piece of ice. "At almost every engine house, which were converted into distributing points, from 300 to 500 people stood in the boiling hot sun, waiting for a small piece of ice. The ice famine there is certainly a most serious one, coming as it did during the present torrid spell," said Mr. Haldeman, Tuesday.

MUST PROTECT ANIMALS

Despite the concentrated attack of Old Sol with his heat batteries, Humane Officer Ball has had very little complaint regarding the neglect of horses where the owners allow them to stand in the street. Several complaints have been received relative to cows being staked in hot places and allowed to remain there, but these few instances have found prompt responses from orders from Officer Ball to relieve the animals.

By way of warning, Officer Ball requests that all drivers of horses protect their animals as much as possible during the heat spell. Bonnets which are worn by horses over their heads are not considered acceptable as they appear to be. Head officials of the humane society are said to object strenuously to them.

AWARD CONTRACT FOR NEW TOWPATH

Contracts for a complete renovation and repair of the county's main artery of travel on the West Side, the tow-path, were awarded Tuesday morning by the county commissioners to Contractor George W. White. The repairs are to cost $65,46.50.

Bidding on the work in two sections, Contractor White submitted the lowest figures on both sections. His bid on the first section was $31,571.50 and on the second section $32,272. Grimes and Seymour were close competitors.

Actual work will be commenced at once and an effort made to hustle it along.

CHIRP FROM HAROLD

The stork-collared rabbit on the Chillicothe Gazette warbles:

"There seems to be an unwritten law for the Portsmouth tribe to take the first game of a series with the Riders, no matter how or when."

Yes, buddy, and the last two also.

Traffic Blocked.

Traffic on this division of the C. & O. was blocked for three hours Monday as a west-bound train derailed three cars on the C. & O. bridge that spans the Ohio at Cincinnati. It was a switch train that figured in the derailment. No one was hurt.

Woman Disappears.

Police have found no trace of Dora Carrington, who is alleged to have assaulted the wife of her friend, Fred Johnson, at a home near Twelfth and Waller streets Saturday night. Fifteen minutes after Johnson's wife reported the happening the couple moved away from the two rooms they were occupying and all trace of them has since been lost.

Asks Big Damages

In an amended petition filed in common pleas court, Frank Gilliland is asking $10,000 damages from Contractor Frank Seymour for the loss of his right leg while he was working at Seymour's sand plant on the Scioto river bank. Attorney D. W. James is counsel for Gilliland.

Rag Chewing Tabooed By Commissioners

Protest after protest chased each other across the table at the commissioners' office Tuesday and vied in the degree of strenuousness of the remonstrances. Representative Adam Frick again appeared before the board and argued lengthily and earnestly with the commissioners and the engineers relative to the erection of the city pier of the bridge.

It is Mr. Frick's fear that when the bridge is erected in the manner in which it is planned it will tend to direct the course of the Scioto river toward the city by pocketing the current and thereby eventually undermining more of the bank. "Build the extreme city end pier out farther in the water and run the bridge in a southwesterly direction," is his argument.

Exceptions were also taken by Mr. Frick to the commissioners' methods of preparing for the erection of a new bridge. Instead of drawing the plans and tentatively selecting the site, in justice to the taxpayers, the commissioners should have made surveys, considered two or three propositions in connection with the site of the new bridge and then heard the citizens' opinion on them. Another objectionable feature of the work of the commissioners and engineer, according to Mr. Frick, was the repair of the old towpath instead of supplanting a portion of it with a straight road to intersect the hill road.

Arguments were closed Monday noon when President Bennett of the board ruled that "all rag chewing" was to stop and any further objections be submitted in writing.

After Revenge.

Revenge is planned by the Spiders for Sunday when they meet the Shamrocks at the West End grounds. The Spiders were recently defeated by their old-time rivals but hope to turn the tables in next Sunday's game.

The Electrical Eden

In her first home the Bride will face the house keeping problem under new conditions.

It is a fact, however, that whatever those conditions may be Electrical Cooking Devices will go far toward helping her solve this problem, and assure her a home of real happiness.

The advantage of these devices are manifold. If we wanted to intensify the torridity of the present super-spell we might in the first place, lay stress on the fact that they do not heat up a room like coal or gas. They do not "muss up" at all and their ease and comfort in getting ready are simply incomparable.

Join your friends in giving her an "Electrical "Shower." These are especially appropriate:

Electric Disk Stove
Radiant Toaster
Electric Coffee Pot
Radiant Grill
Electric Coffee Urn
Electric Chafing Disk
Electric Flatiron
Electric Samovar
Electric Flat Iron

When you buy or rent a house see that it has electric service—the house with it is worth hundreds more than a like one without it.

Boosts Portsmouth

Emil Seidel, ex-mayor of Milwaukee and former candidate for vice-president on the Socialist ticket likes Portsmouth. The mayor has just finished a tour of the Southern cities and what particularly impressed him was the air of bustle and energy prevading Portsmouth in sharp contrast to that of the Southern cities. Moreover, "your people are as kind and hospitable as one meets anywhere in the South".

LAST OF FLOOD REFUGEES

Mrs. Harvey Cullom and three little children, the last of the flood refugees at the Second street school building, moved to a house on Mill street Tuesday. Mrs. Cullom had packed all of her effects Monday and Truant Officer J. R. Hurd had arranged to have a drayman remove her goods in the afternoon but for some reason no drayman appeared. The janitors engaged in repairing the school building appealed to the safety department officials but under the law they were unable to provide any money for moving purposes. Officer Joe Stokley expressed a willingness to take up a collection for that purpose but as the hour was growing late Mrs. Cullom decided to spend one more night at the school though forced to unpack all of the bed clothing.

4th At Millbrook

The Central Labor Council is making final preparations for their outing in Millbrook park Fourth of July. They have secured control of nearly all the concessions and those who visit this cool and refreshing spot will find amusement galore.

There will be dancing and skating in the pavilion, two games in the ball park and two vaudeville shows in the Casino, in which some of the best home talent will appear. There will be a game of ball between two girl teams, the All Rights and the Sew Sews, who made such a big hit at the Selby picnic. In the morning the Eagles will play the Steel plant team.

MOTORCYCLES ARE JOINED

Credit for the origination of the idea of "marrying" two motorcycles for an affect a la automobile goes to C. F. Siler and William Zimmerman, an N. & W. machinist. These two East End young men with the aid of pipes and mechanism have joined their two motorcycles and have been creating a spludge as they hummed over the paved streets. As soon as the invention is entirely completed they expect to apply for a patent.

Plants To Close

All the local shoe plants will close down Thursday evening and will not resume operations again until Monday morning on account of the Fourth coming on Friday. Many of the shoeworkers will visit out of town relatives during the short lay off.

FAMILY IS AFFLICTED

County Recorder Joe L. Switalski's baby son, Fred, is dangerously ill with summer complaint. Joe, himself, is detained at home, having had a finger amputated Sunday, following an automobile accident.

Germaine, a young daughter of Frank Switalski, Jr., also had an accident Monday afternoon. While playing in York Place she stumbled and fell across a broken china saucer, splitting her nostril and gashing her cheek. Drs. Gault and Williams responded to a hurry call and it required a half dozen stitches to sew up the wound.

Still Laid Up.

Mrs. Ida Jones, who is employed as duster at the Hansen Furniture Company's store, is still laid up at her apartments in the Test flat building suffering from injuries sustained while attending the street fair one night last week. Mrs. Jones, who is a very heavy woman, was thrown to her knees when the support of her seat broke in one of the tent shows at the fair. Several fell on top of her and she was severely bruised and shaken up. The intense heat has added to her sufferings.

Condition Alarming.

J. Frank Wooddell, who in attempting to stop a runaway team attached to a cultivator, was knocked down and run over at his home near Wakefield, some days ago, has taken a turn for the worse. His condition is regarded as very alarming. Mr. Wooddell was injured internally.

Ankle Sprained.

LODGE GOAT OVERCOME BY HEAT

The terrific heat of last night prostrated the goat of Magnolia Lodge K of P., during the initiation of Garland B. Moore, who was being inducted into the mysteries of the Knighthood.

After the goat was revived on the back fire escape initiation proceeded. Only one candidate, Mr. Moore, braved the heat and showed up. He is now a full fledged knight.

Next Monday night two will be taken in Page rank. The new officers for the last half of 1913 will be installed at this meeting. They are: Louis Turner, C. C., Geo Tener, V. C., Stephen Holman, Prelate, O. Thompson, M. at A., Geo. Pressler, I. G., Clyde Barber O. G.

Hon. S. A. Hoskins of Wapakonetta., grand chancellor of the Domain of Ohio, has appointed George T. Swabby deputy grand chancellor for Magnolia, and his appointment and commission were read to the lodge last night. Mr. Swabby thus becomes the personal representative in Magnolia of the grand chancellor, with all the dignities and powers that attach to that exalted office.

After the initiation and other work of next Monday evening, the lodge will enjoy an ice cream and cake feed.

New Sale Record.

W. H. Cashatt, sales agent for the Chas. Denby cigar, manufactured at Evansville, Ind., was in the city Monday the guest of Messrs. Stanton and McMahon, of the Smoke House. During the day in canvassing the city, Mr. Cashatt established a city record for the sale of cigars when he placed 5,000 specimens of the weed with local dealers.

Term Expires.

The first of July marks the expiration of the term of Dr. R. O. Le Baron as a member of the health board and it is up to Mayor Tynes to appoint his successor.

JULY—BIRTHSTONE, RUBY; FLOWER, DAISY

"The glowing Ruby should adorn
Those who in July are born,
Thus they will be Exempt and Free
From Love's Doubts and Anxiety."

The Ruby is the most valuable of all colored stones; in fact, when a perfect Ruby of ten or more carats enters the market, it will bring a price three times as great as a Diamond of the same weight.

The color of this gem is that of arterial blood—a perfect red.

Rubies are found chiefly in Siam, Burmah, Ceylon, Brazil, Borneo and Australia. Rubies were worshiped by the ancients because of their rich color and their marvelous beauty. The great Rubies of the East India Princes are the wonder of the world, and many thrilling adventures have accompanied their possession.

Rubies and so-called Rubies—are worn as a charm against Plague, Poison, Sadness and Sensuality. Those who wear them at the present day believe that they remove Cares, Fears and Trouble.

Solid Gold Ruby Birthstone Rings $2.00 and upwards.

WITH THE SICK

Just as she was about to depart on a pleasure trip to Billings, Montana, Mrs. Lizzie McAllister, aged 84, of Sciotoville, was prostrated by heat at the home of her brother, Benjamin Griffin of Front street Monday. Mrs. McAllister's son, Morris Mc Allister, a well to do ranch owner of Montana, had come to accompany his mother to his home. The trip will be started in a few days as she shows improvement.

Edward Neary, a brother of Ex-County Commissioner Green Neary, is seriously ill with cholera morbus at his home near Harrisonville. He is past 80 years of age. Fred Brisker, an aged resident of Wheeler's Mills, is also very ill, suffering from the heat.

Switchman Carson Gordon's little son who was operated upon a few days ago, showed some signs of improvement Monday.

R. L. Downey, employed in the plant of the Portsmouth Steel Company, was overcome by heat Tuesday and had to be taken to his home on Ohio avenue, New Boston. He is recovering from an attack of typhoid fever and was unable to withstand the blistering heat, owing to his weakened condition.

Miss Bess Huddleson, who has been laid up due to heat prostration, had scarcely stepped outdoors Monday evening, when she suffered a fainting spell and fell from a porch. Her condition was little improved Tuesday.

County Commissioner Daniel Egbert, who suffered an attack of the heat Monday, was decidedly improved Tuesday.

Miss Lulu Johnson is seriously ill at her home on Eighth street caused by operation.

Charles Fligor, an employe of A. Steinkamp & Co., will re-enter Hempstead hospital for another surgical operation Wednesday. Mr. Fligor just after the flood fell over a telephone pole in front of his home on Findlay street and injured his knee.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Wise:—I am a girl 33 years of age and would like for you to tell me how I can get a man. I have never had a beaux in my life and if I don't get busy pretty soon I will be classed with those "on the shelf." I am a good cook and a good housekeeper and am well and strong, but I am not pretty and attractive. I can make lemon pies that would melt in your mouth. Do you know of any man that likes lemon pies? He might overlook my homeliness if I could fill him up on good stuff. Anxious Mollie.

Well now Molly you should worry about a beaux! The majority of men like good eats about as well as they like good looks. Because you are homely or unattractive generally, is no reason why you should not have a beaux. We see wives every day that makes us wonder how any man ever learned to care for them. When you say you know how to cook and keep house I wonder that you have not married long ago, because every man is strong for those characteristics. I think if show how very unselfish and docile you can be, you will very soon find a beaux. However a congenial friend is much nicer unless the beau is the one man.

Dear Miss Wise:—What is your opinion of a boy who is mean enough to show a girl's letters and picture to other boys, and who is so lost to all sense of honor and decency that he will discuss affairs of the heart and bring a girl's name into a conversation with a lot of other boys. I know what I think about such a boy, but would like to hear someone's [illegible] interested opinion. Henry.

No gentleman will discuss a girl or his affairs with a girl or in any way display a girl's letters or pictures to any other man. I have no words to express my opinion of the wretch who discusses his connection with a girl in the hearing of other men. Real men despise him and treat him with contempt. The only thing a girl can do to shun him as she would a rattle snake and never allow herself to do any thing that may give such a creature an excuse to handy her name or letters or picture about. The girl should demand that her picture be returned to her. Girls should be careful who they give their pictures to and learn to never write anything to a young man that they would be ashamed to have others see.

Dear Miss Wise:—How can I take a perspiration stain out of a dress? Sweaty Bettie.

Lay the stain over blotting paper and sponge with equal parts of alcohol and ether mixed. Rub dry, then touch lightly with household ammonia. If it leaves a blur, rub well with powdered French chalk on the wrong side.

Dear Miss Wise:—How can I clean yellow roll curtains? Domestic.

Use a regular wall paper cleaner, bread crumbs, or bread dough.

Dear Miss Wise:My baby is nine months old, strong and well. How should I dress him during the hot weather? Mother.

Just as cool as you possibly can. It is only necessary that his bowels should be kept warm, and the flannel knit bands, which button over the shoulder are all that are necessary for that. On cool days a long sleeved cotton, or silk and wool shirt can be worn, but do not be afraid to keep him cool. Most babies are dressed entirely too warm during the summer.

Dear Miss Wise:—Do you think that it is alright for a girl of sixteen to go to church and entertainment with boys if they have known each other for several years. Would it be alright for a girl of this age to go with a boy of fifteen years. Country Lass.

If your parents do not object to your going with the boys to church and entertainments, it would be all right. You might arrange to have some older person accompany you. A boy of 15 is too young to go with the girls.

Miss Dolly Wise:—Will you please tell me what will remove superfluous hair from the face and arms. S. E. M.

Equal parts of peroxide and ammonia. Not the regular household ammonia but a toilet ammonia you get at the drug store.

Dear Miss Wise:—How is Quixotic pronounced. Ignorant.

Kwiks-ot-ic, with the accent on the second syllable.

Dear Miss Wise:—I am a young married woman and my husband goes down street and don't wish me with him. He wants me to go by myself or stay at home. Can you tell me why he does not want me to go with him, and can you tell me if he goes down street to flirt? What kind of a man do think he is? A. D.

It's only natural that he should want to go down street alone sometimes. Probably if you weren't so anxious to accompany him every night he might ask you to go along. Better go down town during the day instead of going out after night by yourself. I suppose he is just like any other man. No matter how good a man is or how well he likes his wife, he does not want her tagging after him all the time. Be a good and sensible wife and I am sure your husband will take you out as often as necessary.

Dear Miss Wise:—Please give me a recipe for about three quarts of ice cream. Housekeeper.

Ice Cream:—One box gelatine dissolved in one quart hot milk. Strain and add 2 pounds of sugar, yokes of 6 eggs, gelatine and sugar until eggs are cooked. Add 2 quarts of cold milk, 1 quart sweet cream, whites of 6 eggs well beaten, flavor and freeze. This makes a gallon of cream.

Here is another recipe for a gallon of cream:—4 quarts of milk heat boiling hot. 1-2 cup corn starch, stirred to a paste. 1 1-2 cups sugar, pinch salt. After adding corn starch cook a few minutes, then strain and set away to cool; when cool add one pint cream and flavor with lemon or vanilla, freeze.

SEIDEL-BEDE DEBATE WAS A FINE TREAT

A BIG CROWD INSURES CHAUTAUQUA SUCCESS

(By F. W. Sheridan.)

The atmosphere inside the big Chautauqut tent at Sixth and Raynor streets was whipped and lashed into a fever heat, Monday night when the debate between Hon. Emil Seidel, ex-mayor of Milwaukee, and Hon. J. Adam Bede, former congressman of Minnesota, on the question, "Resolved, That Socialism is Desirable for the United States" was pulled off per schedule before an audience that packed the tent. The affirmative side of the question was championed by Mr. Seidel, one of the country's leading Socialists, while Mr. Bede, a stand pat Republican of National reputation handled the negative side.

Wit was a prominent factor, logic was continually being called into play, while ridicule was resorted to on several occasions.

Each speaker had his sympathizers, and each man scored heavily. Those who are of the same belief as the affirmative speaker were loud in the praises of their champion, declaring that he literally moped up the earth with his adversary and strengthened the cause of Socialism in this city; on the other hand Mr. Bede's partisians are hallelujahing and lauding the fight put up by the ex-congressman, whose store house of wit is inexhaustible and whose sarcasm cuts with the keenness of a newly honed razor.

The debate was an intellectual treat, one upon which an audience will feed once in a life time.

They Stood Toe-to-Toe.

Mr. Seidel, square-jawed and earnest, his eyes flashing like two balls of fire, stood toe-to-toe and shoulder to shoulder with his eloquent opponent, neither giving an inch of ground nor afraid to take a wallop in order to land a telling blow. They battled for four rounds, at the end of which time both were fit candidates for a shower bath and the cooling rays of an electric fan.

Mr. Bede, with his flaming red tie, was as wet as a dish rag, the perspiration trickling down his face like water dripping from an eaves trough. The temperature of the two men was above the boiling point, although the ex-mayor was the fresher of the two at the close. Mr. Bede works with as much ambition as Billy Sunday claims to have patented. He is as nervous as a thoroughbred race horse at the post and goes down the line with as much speed.

Mr. Seidel is more composed, and if anything holds closer to his text than the former congressman who sent volley after volley into the breast works of argument set up by the ex-mayor.

Through the one hour and a half, not one disrespectful thing was handed out. The two men have been teaming the country for the past six weeks and apparently are the best of friends, despite the fact that their beliefs upon the Socialistic problem is as different as light and darkness. Each has a wholesome respect for the others ability and while the fur would fly on numerous occasions the debators were exceedingly respectful and will go at it again at Maysville Tuesday night where they are booked for another verbal clash.

Applause Liberal.

The "rounds" were divided into 30, 20, 10 and 5 minutes duration and each speaker would be half begun when the referee, Mr. Alford would call time. Each was given his share of applause throughout the debate, for the match was so evenly contested that the general opinion prevailed that a draw would be the only decision that could have been given. One would charge the other of leading in clinches, the other would come back with the claim that he had been struck below the belt. One would assert that his opponent had traveled in a circle, while the other would come back that his opponent had said much but little. Mr. Bede depended upon the Christian religion as the one salvation for the toilers, and the entire human race, while Mr. Seidel was willing for the wage earners to work out their destiny and reach a state of perfection upon this earth through the talents the Creator had blessed him with. Mr. Bede charged that the leading Socialists of this country were atheists, while Mr. Seidel contended that that phase of the question had nothing whatsoever to do with the question and refused to defend the charge, maintaining that the Socialistic question was the one up for solution. Both debaters evaded or refused to answer several questions put to each other, claiming they were germain to the proposition under disussion. It was a battle between two well balanced and intelligent foes and was well worth the price of admission to the entire Chautauqua. Neither wasted breath nor time, utilizing every moment in order to land a punch that would at least stagger his opponent. While it's probably has been rehearsed any number of times, nevertheless it was rapid fire, hill, bang affair from start to finish and each man can well be proud of the fight he put up in defense.

Mr. Seidel Opens Debate.

Mr. Seidel was the first speaker and he wasted precious little time. He jumped into his side of the question with the agility of a true blue Socialist—the kind that never backed up in an argument or give an inch of space to an adversary. He started out by saying, "While Socialism touches every phase of society, the working class is primarily interested in it and are flocking to its support. Socialism proposes to give the working man what is coming to him. The men who live in luxury do so on the labor of the working men. One of the misconceptions is that Socialism and anarchy are identical. They have nothing in common, further than they both protest against the present form of society. Socialism stands for more laws, anarchy stands for fewer laws."

"It isn't proposed to divide the world's industries if we could, and it is silly to charge that Socialism proposes to divide up the industries of the country.

"Socialism does not stand for atheism—some Socialists are atheists—some are Catholics—some are Protestants and some are Jews. In many Socialistic conventions, Socialists have declared that religion is a question that will eventually solve itself."

"Socialism is the next step in civilation and the capitalists are now preparing for its advent"

Socialism Means Economic Equality.

"Socialism means the establishment of economic equality. There are a comparatively small number of laboring men who own their own tools. We propose to bring about the social ownership of tools. Socialism proposes to abolish production for profit. Socialism proposes to abolish capital—that does not mean properly. Capital is property, but all property is not capital. A machine becomes capital when it is placed in a factory to produce profit.

"All economies tend toward Socialism. The producers must be the owner of tools. The profit must belong to those who produce. Industrial democracy of Socialism becomes necessary to protect the physique, and the morals of our people. Production for profit fails to protect our men and women and children. Socialism will secure protection for all our people, working hardships on no one."

In replying to Mr. Seidel, Mr. Bede began by saying "Silas has scattered his fire. His beautiful theory that Socialism would take over all property, own it, use it in common and share it in common will never happen. It has been tried and failed—human selfishness will never permit it to become a reality, or permit such a thing to endure. The father of Socialism, Karl Marx, was an athiest, and all prominent writers are athiests, and they all drift to free love."

"Should Mr. Seidel's plans come, I would ask him how wages would be adjusted. If one received a salary of $4,000 or 5,000 per annum and saved $1,000 per year what would he do with it. Under Socialism he would not be permitted to invest it or draw interest on his money.

Says Drones Would Be Made.

Socialism would make drones out of geniuses, and in ten years many a man would be living off his brother. Under Socialism ten years you would have more folk watching other folk than they have soldiers in Germany. As Speaker Joe Cannon said, "Socialism is like a mother hubbard dress it covers everything and touches nothing."

"The property value in the United States is compute at $106,000,000,000. Suppose you condemn it and buy it for $2,000,000 and pay 5 per cent on the balance, you would have a deficit of $5,000,000,000 per year. Under the capitalistic system life has been lengthened 14 years in the past few years. Will you throw over a system like that, and take a joy ride in the dark. That's all Socialism is, a joy ride in the dark—you know not where you are going but you are on the way.

"How are you going to take over my Minnesota farm? Is the man who has been living in idleness for 20 years going to get part of my farm, which I have labored hard for?

"Socialism will destroy individuality; it will destroy genius it will lead to anarchy. Socialism they say is as far separated from Anarchy as mid-day and midnight. That's true—just 24 hours. On the day you have Socialism, the next day you will have Anarchy. Men will not endure to have every little detail of his life regulated.

Would Rob Opportunity.

"What is to be my job under Socialism—how regulate the scale of wages? Socialism would be a new form of slavery, because it would drive you to work. It would rob genius of opportunity. Under Socialism the scum of the earth would hold a referendum election to determine who would be the chambermaid in a livery stable, or who would be a railroad president. The laboring men of this country have enough laid by in savings banks to buy up every trust in the country."

Mr. Seidel then took up the running by saying that his opponent had failed to answer a single argument "Let me ask you how much profit the physicians of this country received for locating and eradicating diseases that prolonged the death rate of the country."

"When every girl gets what she earns, she will not have to hire out as a servant".

Mr. Seidel then created considerable animation among some of his auditors when he asked, "Who is blowing the whistle; who doesn't allow us to belong to a labor organization; who discharges because we are Socialists. Mr. Bede asks "who will set the wages under Socialism?" I answer, you work for set wages or you've got no job under the capitalistic plan. The manufacturer says to you, "You work for what I say or I'll starve you." It means that there is a power stronger than the government—a power that sets your wages and fixes your job. We propose to give our laboring people an interest in the industries. The great mass of people are not getting enough food or enough clothes—many are getting no education. When the great store houses of the country are filled to overflowing and there is plenty for all, the capitalist of the country engineer a panic and then they starve you more, freeze you more."

How Bede Got Strained Voice.

In rebuttal Mr. Bede said:

"The economic problem will never hold the people together—nothing will do that save the love of God. Justice to the human race will never come only through the love of Jesus Christ. Through the present system, cancer, and tuberculosis will be wiped off the face of the earth in the next century. That will happen because of the philantrophy of the capitalistic class."

At this point, Mr. Bede explained the hoarseness of his voice by saying "I sprained my voice last year in helping elect President Taft," a retort that brought down the house.

"No institution that is owned in common, and its profits divided in common, will survive a week. France owns her own telephone system and serves but one person in 117. Under the individual ownership in this country there is one telephone for every 12 persons. It is true that Mr. Bryan advocated the government ownership of railroads and there are some people in this world who are still of the opinion that Mr. Bryan is a Democrat. Socialism needs a witness to testify for itself. Socialism will lead to lawlessness among geniuses. Every individual can control his own job—its up to the individual. In a referendum election to determine what job a fellow will hold, all would run the easiest snap. Under Socialism you would not know whether you would get the roast beef or a pick at the shin bone. It is easy to be a pessimist. The cost of living is high but we are living high. A Jersey cow will not give down her milk these days unless she is milked in an electric lighted barn. Next to a boy's mother his best friend is a cow."

Mr. Seidel again used the cudgel on his adversary when he charged that Mr. Bede was trying to make a farce out of the discussion. He stated that it was true Mr. Bryan had advocated the government ownership of railroads, adding "it so happens that a Democrat or a Republican once upon a while hits upon a bright idea. "I claim again that production for profit is a curse. Everybody knows that it is to send obsene matter through the United States mail, but under the capitalistic regime the government allows the express companies to transport obsene matter anywhere in the country thereby poisoning the minds of the youth and eventually leading to crime. And it is allowed because of profit."

"Nine-tenths of one percent of our people own 70 percent of all the wealth of the country."

"In Mr. Bede's own statement, especially in two of the largest cities the death rate among the children has increased rather than diminished."

"In Chicago sometime ago four youths were charged with murder. They were guilty. One got his start crimeward by reading dime novels, one by the use of whiskey and cigarettes. The capitalistic class made these novels, these cigarettes and manufactured the whiskey as an "incentive" to ruin. They did it for profit and they had God in their hearts too. Why does my friend talk for the profit system when he says that all we need is the love of God? Bede touches everything and at the same time touches nothing. Many a man in this audience has been compelled to work ten hours a day in order to keep body and soul together. He commenced to toil when he was 13 years of age, too, in order to satisfy the greed of the capitalistic class."

Give Child A Good Mother.

In retorting Mr. Bede said: "The best way to bring up a child is to give him a good mother as a starter. You do not have to pay man money to make him do wrong. Capital is contributing to the eradication of disease. One hundred years ago there was not an insane asylum nor a public school."

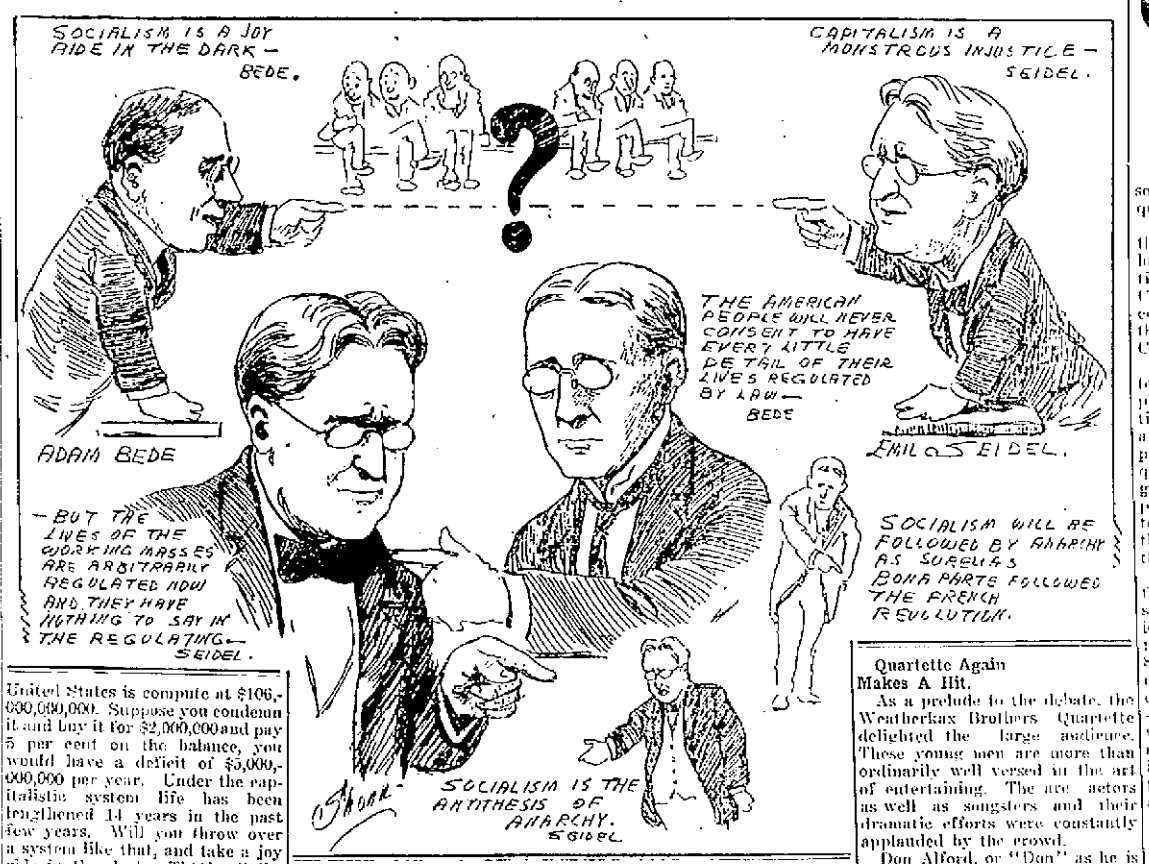

At this point Mr. Bede quoted from many of the leading Socialistic authors to prove their atheism. He added "Mighty few of our leading socialists are active in church work, Socialism wants to get God out of the hearts of men—I want to get it in. Any man who will husband his resources can climb the ladder of success and reach happiness."

Mr. Seidel in his closing round said in part: Mr. Bede has given up the defense of the profit system and comes to the defense of the Christian religion. He is playing on the sympathies of his auditors in order to make his case. If religion will solve the problem I ask Mr. Bede why it is that he does not give up lauding the capitalistic system! Under the present system when the whites go on a strike, the capitalists bring in the "niggers," and when the "niggers" strike the capitalists fill their places with whites. Many of you people who are cheering Bede will embrace the Socialistic doctrine within five years. We are building a Social structure and the dream of happiness is bound to come. The time is not far removed when infants will not be ground into dust for profit; when the aged will be properly cared for; when there will be no alms house for fathers and no poor huse for mother—when the prayers of our forefathers that went heavenward 2000 years ago will be answered."

In his five minutes Mr. Bede said: "In another decade you will have free Chautauquas, founded and financed by the men who are rich. The reason people think the world is growing worse is because of the telegraph, the cable, and the newspapers. The latter records all the evils of the day, tells of the divorce suits, the murders, the elopements, the crimes, acrodane accidents and Democratic victories"

Mr. Bede took occasion to add his boost for Chautauquas, and closed by paying a beautiful tribute to the fidelity of the people that had made this nation one of the most cosmopolitan on earth. He stated that the boundry lines between the north and the south had been wiped out and that we are all brothers, loving the stars and stripes, the symbol of a free and independent nation.

Quartette Again Makes A Hit.

As a prelude to the debate, the Weatherkax Brothers Quartette delighted the large audience. These young men are more than ordinarily well versed in the art of entertaining. The are actors as well as songsters and their dramatic efforts were constantly applauded by the crowd.

Don Alford, or "Don" as he is called, was wearing the smile that won't come off. He is more than pleased with the success of the Chautauqua to date.

"Don" has a pleasing stage presence and made an effective chairman of the debate.

AFTERNOON SERMON.

The afternoon program was thoroughly enjoyable. The Weatherwax Brothers Quartette opened the festivities by rendering a well selected program of songs, trumpet selections and readings.

The main feature of the afternoon was the reading "The World and His Wife" by Mrs. Isabel Garghill Beecher. She held her audience fascinated by the charms and force of her interpretation. It was not a pleasant story, being based on the direful results flowing from gossip.

A home wrecked and lives ruined by scandal-mongers. It bore a lesson as powerful as any sermon. Mrs Beecher amply fulfilled her reputation as being America's greatest woman interpreter.

New Owls.

Five new candidates, Martin Clark, Mathew White, Henry Fraley, E. W. Speck and W. A. Holmes, were mustered into the Owls Monday night. Concluding the ritual, the members enjoyed a keen social session and smoker. A report on the fruits of the recent carnival was deferred pending a settlement of the expense accounts by the committee.

Inspected Work.

Division Engineer C. E. Losh has returned from Chillicothe where he inspected the work the N. & W. is doing at that point and also at Waverly. A new $200,000 bridge is to go up near Gregg's Hill in Pike county.

Chautauqua Is The People's University

(By Shonk.)

The "People's University" someone has dubbed the Chautauqua.

A very good name indeed, but the great American press will hardly concede the right to the title even to the great American Chautauqua. That title was, by common consent, pre-empted by the press long ago, before the Chautauqua idea was born.

The press will, however, grant to the Chautauqua a very high place as an educational institution. It may even concede to it a position a shade higher than the printed page, in that the Chautauqua might be called the post-graduate course, where "we, the people" acquire the finishing touches after the press has done the fundamental work of shaping the intellectual structure.

For, upon the Chautauqua platform meet and clash all varieties, shapes, sizes and shades of opinion. There we meet, see and hear the Republican stand-patter, the Southern "fire-eater," the Democratic war-horse and the Socialist dreamer. Each has his message—or what he, at least, has convinced himself is a message, and all we have to do snuggle down in a comfortable spot on one of the "soft" pine benches and absorb. Nor is the list concluded with discussions of economics. We meet also upon this same platform people who interpret for us masterpieces of music, literature and the drama. The average busy American has not the time, even should he possess the inclination, to devote himself to these things, and so the Chautauqua—in the language of the introductory editorial—comes to fill a "long felt want." In this post graduate course there is—upon our part at least—no toiling hours of study, no brain racking preparation of thesis and no disconcerting examinations. It is the long sought "royal road" to learning, uncovered after all these years.

Tonight the Ben Greet Players will present Shakespeare's immortal play, "The Comedy of Errors," and if we are to judge the future by the past it will be something that no lover of the classics can afford to miss. Many people object to Shakespeare because they say he is hard to understand. This is not true to the "Comedy of Errors." It deals with errors encountered by two pairs of twins, each pair so exactly alike they could not be distinguished. It is very funny and should draw the biggest audience of the week.

Boy Scout Fourth

Boy Scout Master G. E. Linder of the local Chautauqua will accompany the local troops on their hike to Dixon's Mills the Fourth of July. Ten troops in all are expected from Portsmouth and Scottoville. During the swimming contests fifteen different floats will be shown. The baseball game in the afternoon will be between the Tenderfoot Scouts and the First and Second-class Scouts. The public is invited to be present and those who do attend are sure to enjoy themselves. The members of Troop 1 are requested to call Assistant Scoutmaster G. W. Nutter, A-1578.

Heat Closes Plant.

Philip Kaerner, who is employed in a steel plant in Middletown, O., arrived home Tuesday to remain until after the Fourth. The plant in which he is working was forced to shut down on account of so many men being off duty because of the intense heat.

CHAMPS HAVE BATTING BEE AT HAMILTON ON MONDAY

Hamilton, O., July 1.—Portsmouth walked away with the first game of a series of three games with the local club Monday, the final score being 12 to 3. The Champs batted the ball all over the lot and the result was never in doubt.

Because he was called out at the plate on a close decision, Nig Francisco pushed Umpire Goehler aside and he was then put out of the game. Many of the fans claim that Francisco struck Goehler in the mouth. Much excitement followed the incident as the fans claimed that the Umps favored Portsmouth on several other occasions.

But no team was ever robbed by the umpire that was as decisively beaten as the Hams were Monday at the hands of the fast Portsmouth bunch. The game was featured by the hard hitting of Baggan, Conwell, Beers and Edwards. The score:

FIERCE ROAST FOR HIRAM

Chillicothe, O., July 1.—Hundreds of fans remained away from the game Sunday because they did not want to see Grandle pitch. As it happens, Hiram has pitched every Sunday game on the home lot and none of them have been classy exhibitions. Fans who can only go once a week protested today and want to see somebody else work. Hiram's work yesterday was very bad after the fifth inning. Somehow he is no longer the classy artist he once was.

Come on, Hiram, turn in your suit. Such an act would be justifiable. Grandle is a good pitcher and has won many games for the Babes.

Directors Are Through

Ironton, O., July 1.—There will be a meeting of all interested in the future of the Ironton team and baseball in Ironton at the auditorium in the court house on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock to discuss the plans for continuing the team in the Ohio State league for the balance of the season.

The Ironton Athletic and Amusement company has assumed the financial responsibility for giving Ironton league ball up to this time, but the directors do not feel that they can assume this responsibility longer unless there is substantial and unmoved financial backing from those interested in the game.

PLAYING DAYS MAY BE OVER

Philadelphia, Pa., July 1.—Manager Charley Dooin of the Phillies probably never will be able to play ball again. This information comes absolutely from club talk, and every effort is being made to suppress the fact in Philadelphia. Dooin's own physician, during a dinner at the Art club last Friday night, told some personal friends that he feared that the middle finger on Dooin's hand, which was injured several days ago, will not heal, and as a result he will be unable to throw a ball. "He may be able to go behind the bat within two or three weeks" is the way it was explained, "but what good is a man behind the bat if he is unable to prevent runners from stealing on him?"

Dooin was at Atlantic City today with Mrs. Dooin and seemed very angry when informed that the information given by his physician had become public property.

The only redeeming feature of the [illegible] was that Frank Harter pitched the last two innings and did not allow a run. In the last [illegible] innings in which Harter has worked his opponents have not scored a run. Manager Tinker refuses to start Harter in a fresh game.

GIANT LEADER KNOCKED DOWN BY BRENNAN

Following the exciting Philadelphia-New York game Monday, Manager McGraw was brutally assaulted by Ad Brennan, one of the Phillies' twirlers in the box.

As McGraw was walking across the field accompanied by a Philly player Brennan stepped up to McGraw and planted a blow in McGraw's face and the latter went down. When the Giant leader got up Brennan toppled him over again. Then McGraw was led off the field and hustled to his hotel. He was not badly hurt.

Goaded to desperation by the sarcastic jibes hurled at him while in the box, Brennan says he could not restrain himself and when he saw Muggsy hiking across the playing field he took after him and knocked him down when they met. Brennan says McGraw called him all sorts of uncomplimentary names and taunted him through the innings in which he pitched.

Inasmuch as the scrap occurred after the game it will be interesting to see what action President Lynch will take in the matter. McGraw is out to win and he will not stop at anything when it comes to slipping one over on his opponents. No matter what his tactics may be he is the greatest manager that ever lived and a bunch of them have played prominent parts in the managerial side of baseball, but they must all bow to the astuteness and resourcefulness of McGraw, the king of them all.

BROOKLYN IS COMING

No team in either league has been playing better or faster ball in the past two weeks than have the Dodgers. After skidding badly during the first few games of the last western trip, the Brooklynites recovered their sea legs and since have been clipping along like a motorcyclist in the final lap of a five mile sprint.

Johnny Baggan A Star

Chillicothe, July 1.—The real star on that Portsmouth club today seems to be Johnny Baggan. He is holding better than ever and his hits and base running have kept the Champs in the first division. Baggan really looks ripe for faster company. He is the classiest outfielder in the Ohio league.

Schuler's decision on E. Cain's foul was really funny. He was the only person on the lot that had any idea that Talbot caught the ball. When he did make up his mind, he refused to change it and all the argument by 13 Portsmouth players failed to convince him. Evidently the sun got into the ump's eyes. It may have cost Portsmouth a run and it may not. There were two men out and Baggan on third. It all depended on what Cain could do. He didn't make a hit at any other time.

Charleston is right at our heels once more and fighting for that first position. Lot of fans here would really like to see them set the pace for a while. The strain with the Babes leading has been a hard one.

BURLEY CUBS CLIMBING

Maysville, Ky., July 1.—Maysville defeated Huntington 5 to 3 Monday. Each club used two pitchers and none were hit hard.

The score: R.H.E.

Maysville ..... 0 1 0 1 0 1 1 1 *—5 9 6

Huntington ..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 2 0 1—3 0 5

Batteries—Schorr, Carter and McGonigel; Block, Manners and Redmon.

BABES BEAT THE NAILERS

Ironton, July 1.—Chick Long, the clever third sacker, who has been playing with Dayton in the Central league, has been secured by Manager McGinnis and was holding down the strenuous position in the last three games played by our boys and makes the Nailer infield look very spruce indeed.

Four Clubs Bunched

The Chilli clan have now won eight in a row and four of them have been hard earned victories on foreign soil. This is a championship clip beyond a doubt.

Only 37 points now separate the first four clubs in the Ben organization and the Champs have a good chance to jump into the lead should Lexington and Chillicothe have a slip-up. Charleston is but four points ahead of Portsmouth. A great race, we should say.

ICE CREAM PARLORS AND RESTAURANTS ARE SCORED

War against unsanitary conditions in ice cream plants, bakeries, restaurants and meat shops and against the sale of contaminated meats has been declared by the board of health. Operators of these various establishments who failed to comply with the city's health laws are to be prosecuted, as the health board issued its ultimatum to the executive officers Monday night to enforce the laws.

Nine bakeries, nine ice cream parlors, six meat shops, five milk depots and nine restaurants have been inspected by Health Officer McKerrihan and Sanitary Policeman Switelski, and a greater percentage of them are condemned for conditions attendant on either the manufacture of products or the handling of them.

Butchering in the city is also to be tabooed, as the board of health has directed its displeasure with such a practice against butchers who bring their cattle within the corporate limits for slaughter. Praise and commendation was handed the Stockham ice plant for the manner in which it turned out the ice to the sweltering consumer.

The city markets are to be closely inspected by the health officer. Meats must be covered and every precaution taken to protect the products from contact with flies. Milk dealers operating in the city from the West Side and across the river without permits are included within the scope of the health board's monthly spurt of activity.

"Enforcement of the health laws or wholesale arrests," is the July battle-cry of the board. The period of intense heat under which the city has been staggering makes it the more imperative, so the board thinks, for the dealers to comply with the health laws.

Condemnation proceedings against the conditions around the Sanford Webb ice cream parlor, on Kendall avenue, were instituted Monday night and the nuisance, it is declared, must be abated forthwith.

June's regular schedule of $521.07 and a special schedule of $121.68, an echo of the recent flood, were allowed. One set of bills, however, the health fathers refused to put their stamp of approval on and rejected. City physicians who ordered medicine for patients during the flood without the approval of any member of the health board or the health officers will have to pay the bills.

McCarthy and Lorimer were granted a permit to conduct a plumbing shop in this city. It was also suggested that the committee appointed on the pest-house appear before council at the next regular meeting and submit its recommendations for a new pest house.

City Physician Wendelken reported making 185 house visits, having 48 office calls, and treated 2 obstetrical and 1 surgical cases.

For the month of June the plumbing inspector, Chas. P. Stamm, made 69 inspections, examined and approved 52 specifications, issued 52 plumbing and 24 vault permits, issued 3 licenses and turned in receipts amounting to $81.

Permits for the removal of 20 dead animals to the chemical works were issued by Sanitary Policeman Frank Switalski; also issued 28 notices to abate nuisances, quarantined 7 houses and disinfected 11 houses.

There were three cases of diphtheria and no deaths; one scarlet fever, 17 typhoid fever, 3 cerebro spinal meningitis, 15 measles, 10 whooping-cough and 5 tuberculosis cases during the month, according to Dr. S. B. McKerrihan, health officer. One death ensued from spinal meningitis and 2 deaths from tuberculosis.

SAVED GIRL; SMASHED AUTO

To prevent running into little Jewell Wagner, daughter of William Wagner, a brickworker, 607 Boundary street, H. A. Astholz, a shoe factory foreman, 603 Boundary street, sent his automobile crashing into a curb on Seventh street, between Broadway and Boundary streets, Monday night. A rear wheel of the machine was splintered but the occupants of the car and the little girl, who was romping in the street, escaped injury.

LYRIC HAS FINE SHOW

"Papita's Destiny," a gripping romantic story from the Lubin Studio," and "The Bachelor's Baby," a Vitagraph comedy drama, make a most inviting picture program at the Lyric tonight. Both pictures are far above the average film and will be sure to please everybody. The Lyric has a number of extra good pictures booked ahead for a couple of weeks, which include some of the very best productions on the market. Tomorrow's special attraction is an Edison product called "Mercy Merrick," a most original story taken from "The New Magdelene." The cast is a specially selected one, including "Mary Fuller" as the star. On Thursday there will be two big pictures, "The Governor's Double" and "The Little Tense." Both are two-reel features and will surely make a great program. Manager Mack has also booked the great historical production, "Mary Queen of Scotts," to show at an early date.

RAT TOO HOT; KILLS ITSELF

The barbers at the Washington hotel shop claim to have seen a rat deliberately commit suicide by jumping from the roof of the Washington hotel to the sidewalk on Market street Monday morning. The rodent struck the walk with such force that Officer Smith came rushing over from the esplanade having heard the noise and believed that somebody was hurt. A pedestrian kicked the apparently lifeless and blood bespattered rat and to everybody's surprise it regained its feet and darted across the street where it died in front of the William Ray saloon. All sorts of theories were advanced by the eye witnesses as to what prompted the suicide and most of them agreed it must have been the heat.

Ice Famine Cause Of Much Discomfort

Portsmouth citizens emerged from a long sleepless night Tuesday morning, to be confronted with an ice famine. There isn't a strike of wagon drivers or ice dealers in progress in the city, but the demand for ice is far in excess of the supply and the minimum ratio had to be distributed to the consumer to make the supply go around.

Reports were current that ice was being shipped to Cincinnati to assist the Queen City citizens in grappling with the strike and attendant ice famine, but officials of the Stockham Company emphatically denied any knowledge of such a fact. For the past two weeks, according to the Stockham officials, not a pound of ice has been shipped out of the city. Even the contract to supply the Norfolk and Western has been broken in order to cope with the city demand.

Deaf ears are being turned on appeals for shipments of that indispensable product from outside communities. Many of the smaller settlements are suffering from the scarcity of ice.

Customers of the various dealers in ice have had their daily supply cut to a minimum, and while there is no acute suffering, the embarrassment to housewives, ice cream and meat dealers and all merchants who depend on ice for the preservation of their products, is general. Until there is an abatement of the heat wave, under which the city is staggering, there is no indication of relief.

TO THE PUBLIC AND OUR PATRONS

The cost of manufacturing and selling ice has increased from year to year and especially this year, as we have increased the wages of our men, until our cost is about thirty per cent higher than a few years ago. We have tried to maintain the low selling price until we find there is no profit at present prices and it is necessary to make some slight advances. The present retail price of 40c per hundred pounds cash, will remain; books will be issued at the regular retail price of $1.00 per thousand and $2.00 for five hundred, with a discount of 50c for cash on delivery of $1.00 book and 25c on the $2.00 book; to the wholesale trade only, single 100 pounds at one delivery 30c, from 200 pounds to 1,000 pounds 25c per hundred, butcher boxes and larger users of 1,000 pounds or over at once delivery 20c per hundred. If ice is required to be weighed, it will take extra labor and time to do so and all ice weighed will be at the rate of 50c per 100 pounds. These prices will go into effect June 30th.

Upon investigation, we find that our prices have been lower than other cities and we are justified in taking this step.

PORTSMOUTH SOLDIER TELLS OF GETTYSBURG

The Columbus Dispatch published a group picture of Franklin county survivors of the battle of Gettysburg, among the portraits being one of John M. Morris, formerly of Portsmouth, now of Columbus.

Speaking of Mr. Morris, the Dispatch said:

"John M. Morris was a member of the Ohio First Light Artillery. His old home was in Portsmouth. He enlisted there July 24, 1862, and was mustered out with the battery July 4, 1865. That is the date of the muster-out papers which were prepared elsewhere and sent here, but as a matter of fact it was some time early in August when they were released. Mr. Morris was a member of Battery L. After the close of the war he returned to Portsmouth and came to Columbus with Matt Spellacy, the railroad contractor, as his bookkeeper in 1892. He went through this long period of army service without a scratch and the most serious thing that occurred to him was the contracting of variolold at Fredericksburg.

"Our battery was placed out in a wheat field at Gettysburg on the morning of the first day" said Mr. Morris, "but there was a line of confederate skirmishers behind fences out in front of us and they were annoying us so that they took the horses from our pieces and used them to run back the skirmishers. We had to drag the pieces away by hand. We were ordered to fall back to the Baltimore pike, feed, fill the sponge buckets, and be ready to move into action at a moment's notice. About 2 p. m. the orders came and our battery fell in behind Battery I of U. S. artillery, Captain Weed. At a designated point Weed's battery wheeled and moved on to the line of battle, and we were moving to a place just beyond him when the confederates charged his battery before they could unlimber. They lost three guns and 25 or 30 men. The fact that Weed's battery was ahead of ours, I believe, saved us from the desperate charge that it received.

"The place where we were at Gettysburg was covered with boulders, and our drivers, who were not required to help in the fighting, gathered a number of these together and lay down behind them. Captain Weed, who had more experience about this than our men had, seeing this, ordered the drivers to scatter these boulder piles. 'If a shell should happen to strike in such a boulder pile,' said he, 'the fragments of stone would kill every horse in the battery.' He then rode up the hill himself and was shot dead not far from us.'"

H. D. Smith, of Kenton, O., has taken a position in Lehman Bros.' store.

Gets Back His Horse

Albert Bertman, of Carey's Run, came to town Monday and succeeded in undoing a horse trade made by his son Roy. The young man had traded the family horse for an old black, bilky nag and Mr. Bertman found the new owners had already sold his horse. He started to replevin the animal, but the other men finally paid him for his horse and took back the blind one.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Henry Brown

Heart failure rather suddenly about four o'clock Monday afternoon caused the death of Mrs. Henry Brown at Fullerton, Ky., at the age of forty-two years. Prior to the demise, Mrs. Brown had been a sufferer with heart and stomach trouble. She had just concluded an afternoon's nap when she was seized with the fatal attack. Calling her children to the bedside she succumbed before medical aid could be administered.

Louella, Henrietta, Mabel, Richard and Mrs. Rhodes Van Astrand of Fullerton, are the surviving children with the husband. R. L. Dawson, a Portsmouth contractor, is a brother and the aged father, Larman Brown, also resides here. C. R., James and Isreel Dawson are surviving brothers, residing at Maysville, Ky.

The remains will be taken to Maysville Wednesday morning for interment in the family cemetery.

Mrs. Brown was a loving mother and a favorite among the brothers and sisters. She had a wide circle of friends all of whom are grieved to learn of her death.

Mrs. Pearl Julia Donaldson.

Mrs. Pearl Julia Donaldson, aged 25 years, wife of William Donaldson, an employe of the Selby Shoe company, died at their home, No. 919 Front street, Tuesday morning after a four months' illness with tuberculosis.

Mrs. Donaldson was a daughter of Thomas Royse and was married seven years ago. Besides her husband she leaves one son, Everell, aged 6 years. A three-months-old baby daughter, Dorothy, died of tuberculosis May 9th of this year. Brothers and sisters surviving her are: John Royse, of this city; Elza and Ralph, of the West Side; Mrs. Grace Beck, of Carey's Run, and Mrs. Ethel Cook of Cincinnati.

She was a member of the First Christian church. The funeral will take place from the late home Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Crayton S. Brooks will conduct the services.

Baby Dies

A baby son born to John Bane, a street car motorman, and wife, of No. 618 Second street, died shortly after birth Tuesday afternoon. A child of W. T. Gray, street car conductor, of No. 1407 Center street, also died immediately after birth Tuesday morning. Mrs. Gray was removed to Hempstead hospital in Lynn's ambulance.

Young Women Pallbearers.

Young women friends of Miss Ada Hodge acted as pallbearers at her funeral Tuesday morning. They were Misses Margaret McQuaide, Edna and Bertha Wilhelm, Mrs. Cecil Bunyon, Mrs. Joseph Barber and Miss Turner. Rev. T. H. McAfee offered prayer and Rev. Crayton S. Brooks preached the sermon. Burial took place in Greenlawn cemetery.

Sister Is Dead

Col. John T. Miller was called to Cincinnati Tuesday by the death of his only surviving sister, Mrs. Margaret Young, aged 89 years. Her death was due to infirmities of old age.

Benjamin F. Lawson

Concerning the death at Fresno, Cal. of Benjamin F. Lawson, former Portsmouth resident, the Fresno Herald, of Monday, June 23rd, says:

"Benjamin Franklin Lawson, one of Fresno's well-known pioneers, and head of the county almshouse, died unexpectedly Sunday morning, June 22, from the rupture of an artery in the abdomen. Mr. Lawson had been two days before on a short fishing expedition to Friant, and while there was seized with abdominal trouble that necessiatated an operation on his return home. The operation was not very serious, the continued coughing spells, resulted in the artery rupture that caused death. The funeral was held Wednesday morning, June 25, at 10 o'clock, from the Stephens & Bean funeral chapel.

"Mr. Lawson was born in Portsmouth, Ohio, October 18, 1844. He resided there until 1871, when he moved to Tuscola, Ill., and engaged in the hardware business. In 1872, in Cincinnati, Ohio, he married Emma, daughter of John McLachlan, a wholesale rope merchant of that city. In 1884 he came to Fresno county and planted what is known as the Lomasco Vineyard in Nevada colony, where he lived for many years. On completion of the new county almshouse in 1907 Mr. Lawson and his wife took charge, and he lived there until his death yesterday.

"Besides the widow the deceased is survived by a son, Benjamin F. Lawson, Jr., two daughters, Mrs. Frank O. Locan, of Fresno, and Miss Margaret Lawson, who is a professional nurse in San Francisco; and a brother, T. B. Lawson, of Oakland, Ill.

"Mrs. L. L. Dunbar, of San Francisco, a sister of Mrs. Lawson, accompanied by Miss Margaret Lawson, arrived last night and will remain until after the funeral.

"The death of Mr. Lawson will be mourned by a large circle of friends. He had a kind, genial disposition and was greatly liked and respected by all with whom he came in contact. His passing further shortens the list of surviving pioneers who have seen Fresno grow from a small village to a city."

David T. Brown

At eight o'clock Tuesday morning death called David T. Brown, a pioneer resident of Stockdale, and he passed to his heavenly reward at the age of 63 years. Practically all of his life Mr. Brown followed the plow, cultivating the fields and engaging in agricultural pursuits. In the vicinity of Stockdale he was prominently known, highly respected and regarded as a progressive citizen and prosperous farmer.

One son, Edgar Brown, formerly of Portsmouth, but now of Dayton, Mrs. Edwin Johnson, of Jackson county, and Miss Nell at home, and the wife, Mrs. Hannah Brown, survive. Four brothers, M. W. Brown, Portsmouth, Rev. F. A. Brown, Cambridge, O., J. F. and W. H. Brown, of Stockdale, are living along with two sisters, Mrs. Harriet Allard, Portsmouth, and Mrs. Ellen Nicolett, of Stockdale.

ORA C. FINNEY IS DEAD IN CHICAGO

Sorrow descended on the A. J. Finney home, 631 Sixth street, Tuesday morning, when news was received of the sudden death of a son, Ora C. Finney, in Chicago, Monday night. A long distance telephone message to Mayor Fred N. Tynes at midnight Monday, from Leon Fleig, a brother-in-law of the victim, gave the information that Mr. O. C. Finney had been found dead in a Chicago park.

Owing to interrupted service, farther particulars of the death were not received at that time or Tuesday.

The sudden death was presumably caused by the intense heat, as over fifty victims succumbed in Chicago, Monday.

News of the sudden taking away of the well known Portsmouth citizen was not broken to the parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Finney, until Tuesday morning. It was first reported that Mr. Finney's wife had succumbed, but this erroneous report was later corrected. There were no indications to point to a different cause of death, other than a sudden attack of heart trouble, superinduced by the heat.

First word of the demise was communicated by the mayor to Walter A. Finney, a brother.

Mr. Ora C. Finney left Portsmouth seven years ago for Chicago to assume a responsible position with a well established publishing house. Since making his residence in Chicago with his wife, he has prospered. No previous intimation of any illness of their son had been received by Mr. and Mrs. Finney and the shock of the news came as a sad blow to the aged parents.

Mrs. A. J. Chabot, Mrs. D. W. Gustin of Portsmouth and Dr. H. Clay Finney of the south, and W. A. Finney of Portsmouth, are the surviving brothers and sisters.

Arrangements will probably be made to bring the remains to Portsmouth for interment.

SAY BELL MAY BUY OUT RIVAL

Following the arrival of two engineers of the Bell Telephone Company, who were accompanied by an attorney representing this firm, a rumor gained currency late Tuesday that a deal was on whereby the Home Telephone Company would dispose of its holdings to the Bell people, thus giving Portsmouth but one telephone line.

When asked about the matter an official of the Home Telephone Company admitted that from outside sources a deal of this character was hanging fire. It is said the owners of the Home Telephone Company have placed a price on their holdings, which is being considered by the Bell people.

If the negotiations are closed Portsmouth's telephone plant will be foreign-owned as it has been in the past. A conference of the officials of the two companies may be held tonight and it is remotely possible that a deal of some sort will be put through.

Owing to the unsettled conditions in the plant of the Home Telephone Company a general walk out was prevented among the employes only after the utmost diplomacy had been used by Manager W. R. Fee and other officials. Mr. Fee's resignation went into effect Tuesday.

Columbus, July 1.—Seriously concerned over the daring of modern feminine attire, prominent members of the Ohio Federation of Catholic Societies which meets in Columbus next Sunday, are talking of a movement to have the Federation take action against the increasing scantiness of female dress. In past years the Catholic Federation has given its views to the world frank, irresuch questions as divorce, irreligion and the drink habit, and at its meeting Sunday it promises to go to the mat with a subject more sensitive and yet to many more interesting than any of the rest. Catholic leaders here say that the Catholic clergy of the state have become actually alarmed over the greater and greater tendency toward lack of modesty in the apparel of women and that the time has come when it is agreed that concerted action should be taken. The Catholic Federations made up of delegates from all parts of the state and comprises many prominent Catholics. Several clergymen will attend the meeting Sunday. As indicative the large Catholic sentiment, the Catholic Columbian, in its last issue, published here, has the following to say about modern feminine attire: No Catholic mother should let her daughter wear the tight skirts, the slit skirts, the Balkan suit with its band around the hips, and the other extravagant fashions that now prevail, which are designed for the demi monde by men dress-makers, pandering to the needs of women who are for sale and who desire to attract customers.

Ugly [illegible] loan agents are now [illegible] complaints which have been received by the Red Cross and the Russell Sage Foundation. The complaints are [illegible] funds which have been given to flood sufferers in Ohio at [illegible] are in large amounts finding their way back into the pockets of loan agents who have advanced small sums to the flood victims and who are demanding [illegible] money in the form of exorbitant interest rates. It is charged that the loan agents are most active in Dayton and Columbus and they, rather than the flood sufferers, are getting money which the big hearted people have donated many times, at a big sacrifice, to help the stricken sufferers. [illegible] able cases are being brought to light wherein flood victims, who were advanced paltry sums by the loan men are now being compelled to pay back the ordinal sum three or four times over in the name of interest. There is talk in Columbus and Dayton of making Governor Cox to request the generally assembly next January to straighten the anti-loan shark law.

Insofar as can be determined by the prevailing sentiment here, Governor Cox's new industrial commission formally appointed yesterday, meets with public approval. Wallace D. Yaple of Chillicothe, who is named for the term ending June 30 1919, is an attorney by profession. He was elected mayor of Chillicothe five times and was serving his fifth term when named member of the state liability board of awards which goes out of existence with the operation of the industrial commission law. Thomas J. Duffy of East Liverpool, who is appointed for the term ending June 30 1917, before being appointed on the state liability board of awards, was for nine years president of the national Brotherhood of Operative Potters, which embraces the white ware potters of the United States and Canada. During his reign among the potters there was not a single strike of general nature. For his present appointment he had general labor endorsement. M. B. Hammond of Columbus, who is named for the term ending June 30 1915, is a professor in the department of economics at Ohio State University. He has been a close student of public problems and is considered to be well qualified for the particular work that will be required by the new commission. The new commission will take over and manage the following state departments, State liability board of awards, mine inspector's office, office of labor commissioner, of stationary engineer, boiler inspector, inspector of workshops and factories and state board of arbitration. Even though he took leave of [illegible] early in the year, former State Bank Superintendent Frank E. Baxter, is entitled to his salary until the time he actually resigned his duties some months later, in the opinion of Attorney General Timothy S. Hogan. In another opinion, Mr. Hogan holds that state senator in Ohio need not live in his district in order to continue his office. The question was raised to Summit county.
